

$\circ$  Equal =  $\circ$  No value
 $\circ\circ$  Equal may =  $+\infty$  Ultimate good Equal may =  $-\infty$  Ultimate evil

Can a person have both no value
 AND be ultimately good AND/OR ultimately evil?
 in value? * Unknown.

Why does the value of a person even matter?

* Justice

If people are ultimately good or evil in value, then one may suffer from injustice.

If life has no value:

- All is just
- Life and death are not demarcated.
- Any and all actions have no impact on anything

Moral imbeciles are those who side with  $\circ$  or  $-\infty$ . The ideals of society are founded on  $+\infty$ .
